

In the Field

The first ever NEH web series

Episode One: National Digital Newspaper Program

Release Date: December 19th, 2016

Dear Friends,

The National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) strives to serve and strengthen our republic by promoting excellence in the humanities and conveying lessons of history to all Americans. To help make the humanities accessible to all, NEH is introducing In the Field, its first ever web series which takes a deep dive into NEH-funded projects and products in the field of the humanities.

Today, we present you with the first episode. Episode 1 takes viewers through the inner workings of the National Digital Newspaper Program (NDNP). The NDNP is a partnership between NEH, state projects, and the Library of Congress (LOC) that provides enhanced access to United States newspapers published between 1690 and 1963.

We invite you to take part in our journey and enjoy, learn, and engage as we put out monthly In the Field episodes.

Sincerely,

The National Endowment for the Humanities
